

DI ZHANG

PSAM12 Speaker Bio

Challenges and New Developments in Maritime Risk Assessment

Short Statement: first author.

BIOGRAPHY

Di Zhang is Assistant Professor of Intelligent Transport Systems Research Center, Wuhan University of Technology, China. He received his BSc in Navigation Technology, MSc in Traffic Information Engineering & Control and PhD in Vehicle Operation Engineering from Wuhan University of Technology in 2005, 2008 and 2011 respectively. With the financial support from the China Scholarship Council, he was a full time researcher at Liverpool John Moores University (LJMU), from October 2010 to September 2011.

Dr. Zhang's major research interests include risk assessment and decision science applied in marine systems. He has authored 1 book chapter, 12 refereed journal papers and 11 refereed conference papers. He is associate fellow of Royal Institute of Navigation (AFRIN).